enator Wade's Great Speech.

Prem Our Own Correspondent.]

Washington, Dea 17-P. M.

The topic of most interest in all Republican direles is the splendid, patriotic, manly speech of Olid Ben Wade of Ohio, delivered before the Senate yesterday afternoon, and in the presence of a crowded and deeply interested audience in the extensive galleries. It was the speech of the assain thus for in the second of the session that the second of th speech of the session thus far, in matter, tore and manner. It was calm, firm and stateman-like, it mades profound impression upon the minds of all who heard it, and upon its conclusion Senators flocked around the gallant ien, and warmly congratulated him. Even that piece of fire-caters, Wigfall of Texas, ap-proached and extended his hand, remarking,

Senator Wade, I like a manly opponent who is above subteringe or anuffling, and who meets each question on its naked merits, "You str, can say bolder and stronger things proached with a compromise, as he was ready to give up such principles wholly and freely. Neither need any one make a threat to compel him to surrender, for whatever was wrong he was desirous to set right without price. Since he violation of the Missouri Compromise the North had tirmly resolved never to make another, which would again be broken whenever it became the interest of the South to disregard it. What was all the complaint of grievances about? He had heard of he new occurrences since the close of the last session that could farnish reasonable cause for the trouble; he had been apprised of no eneroschments on the rights of States or individuals, and was therefore led to expect a harmonious session.

The trepublican party sets forth no doctrine to day that has not the sanction of this Government in every department of it for the last seventy years. Fyos have changed; we stand where we used to stand. The place we occupy is that occupied by the most distinguished statesmen of this nation. We stand where Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Mouroe, and Jackson did, and the doctrines which Henry Clay, that statesman of blessed memory, held up to his last moments, we hold to-day. Why do you accuse us of holding up these opinions? What doctrines injurious to you do we hold? You point out none. You do not complain of the personal liberty bills, nor of the fugitive slave bill, nor of Mr. Lincoln. The Senster from Georgia (Mr. Iverson) said that Mr. Lincoln would do the Soath no harm.

CASS-BUCHANAN. pected patriotism has been shown one high place in the Government ticipated treason in another; a spark of Roman fire, like that of Scipio, from a decom posed politician—a damning treachery like that of Catiline from a potent Chief Magis trate; a rising from the dead in the State Department—a conspiracy to kill in the White House. The somnolent, boneless long-forgotten placeman, who for decade fice, has brushed the cobwebs from hi eye', and once more stands erecct, the forhas not fought, it is true; but he has done the next best thing-he has refused to sur render. He has broken his sword for the cond time. He stands to-day before the lic, of all rank offense absolved, for ren. He is clean if not decorated. He nished his country by proving that in that porous receptacle of public pay there yet remains at least the elen glorious retreat. As Secretary of War un-der Jackson he had formal Jackson he had faced secession in its e, and he feared it not. He had learned from the Hero of New Orleans to pro ace it treason, and he refused in his old age to call it by any other name. What ever his past weaknesses, there still exists a little phosphate of lime in the old Gene in he meantime, His excellency, James BUCHANAN, President of the United States er-in-Chief of the army and nav is tottering through the sumptuous solitude of the White House, a chattering imbecile a hopeless, helpless prisoner of vicious counsellors, pandering to bad passions in others which age has extinguished in him self, alternately telling his beads and wri ing weak supplications for newspapers an object of mingled compassion and con-tempt. The dark, dreary dotage of George III. is the only prototype history affords He whimpers, he laments, he weeps, h exhorts to prayer—he does everything but act. His speech is the speech of Job—his en is the pen of Jeremiah. He prays and nortifies the flesh. In the absence of manhood he falls back on penance consolation. Poor, wretched old shadow of a Christian! O, for a brave, honest Heathen at the helm of State—a proud, potent Pagan—a defiant, unregenerate Son of Sin—anybody with a will and a nerve,

Peter, void of the martyr's penitence and devotion.

But while the President is playing these pranks before high Heaven in behalf of treason, it is pleasant to know that his papers are grateful enough to call him "President Panza," quoting long passages from Sancho's government to prove the parallel; and Charleston demagogues allude respectfully to him as "King Log." ought to satisfy him, by all that's wonderful!

The Richmo d Enquirer of December ticle headed "Negotiation, not Legislation," holds the following extraordinary language, to which we invite the careful at-tention of Mr. Lincoln's friends in Illinois and the whole Northwest. It is, we think, the most deliberately atrocious and inferthe American newspaper press. It would be charitable to suppose that the writer was drunk when he penned it; but all the Enquirer's utterances now-a-days are so inflammable, treasonable and suggestive of assassination, that that supposition is for-bidden unless we choose to believe that the journal in question has an editor who is, unlike other drunkards, without lucid intervals between his cups. If we are to assume that this is the deliberate voice of the State of Virginia, and that any portion of the Washington or strong in the becarried. service at Bunker Hill and subsequently saved the South from subjugation, to be taken down and burnished up, to the end that this government may not be overins without a struggle at least as carnest and as long as that which brought it into

What is the cause of all this commotion among the people? If the newspapers are to be credited there is shroad in the land a relya of verror, like the reign of terror that ruled in the city of Paris in the French Revolution. Acts are committed in which the rights of the citizen are streken down, and we daily hear of accounts of men abused, tarred, tentered, and murdered, and no inquiry whatever is made as to the cause. Way, if any foreign Government were to act bioscrate our edizens—yes, a single one of them—thus, we would declary wer against her is one day and hard he shole power of the nation at the effender. What, then, is the cause of this excitement? Is it because the people of the South believe and are led to believe by-all that comes before them that we, the Republicans, are their mortal enemies and that we are going to trample them under our feet? Our mortal enemies, and Mr. W., at the Sorth have lead to these falsehoods too willing an ear. Have the gentlemen from the South any thing to complain of when they are informed of the true state of Northern feeling? In respect to the personal liberty bills there -a depot for troops, arms and immittons of our for the subjugation of the people of Virginia. These are questions which to the people of Virginia are becoming more and more important as the 4th of March approaches—and which we fear must be determined by a binody conflict, unless the present administration shall preserve the peace by depriving the Federal Government of all power to attempt coercion. Should Mr. Buchanan deliver over to the States all the forests, &c., elivated within them, thus depriving the Black Republicans of all means of provoking a conflict—the States will by negotiation among themselves, adjust all differences, and final reminon may result from the negotiation. But to deliver the test of the State from whence he came, but in practice, he is carried anywhere. Mr. W. is held by all the civilized people in Europe; as he England, France, Germany and Italy. The Senator from Texas said "Cotton is King," and that all of us must bow down to it. It is King in Europe, the subjects of the King are talking there in a very rebellious way about it. Europe tells you it sympathies a with what you call the Black Republican party. It is to be hoped we shall hear no more the boast that "Cotton is King," to bring men to its footstool. No Republican orator or newsjaper has ever pretended that we have any interest or right to interfere with or invade your institution in your own States. Why, then, de you complain? Will you break up this Government and involve us all in war and bloods do on a mere suspicion that we may hereafter do something prejudicial to your interests? We do not love slavery. Is that any thing new? Did you not know this before? Is it anything one with the whole civilized world dishikes slavery? We Republicans did a 'you'did; we made our plaiform; we nominated our candidates; the issue was made up. We went to the people, and, though heretofore generally beaten, our criuse was so good that we best you. It tell you that our President and Vice Pres dent must be insugarated, precisely as their predeceasors have been. It would be dishonorable for him who has the vardict of the people in his pocket to take any step short of what his position demands of him. There is nothing to compromise. All sorts of events may happen, turnoils, disorders, war, but every thing must go on in due order. If ever the day comes when in this eountry a majority ceases to rule, the liberties of the country will be gone. For myself, said Mr. Wade, had I the verdict of the people in the other propersity. There is no better title to the office of President than the verdict of the people in the other propersity. There is no better title to the office of President than the verdict of the people in the other people in the country at majority ceases to rule, the liberties of the country will be gone. For myself, iny pecket, I would suffer anything rathe tima compromise. This is no place for comity or generosity. There is no better title to the office of President than the vertict of the people. If we cannot stand there, we cannot stand anywhere. Any other principle this that would be as fatal to you as to us. Suppose Lincoln is from one section of this country, is he not honest? Is not Mr. Breekinridg from one section too? If Mr. Breekinridg from one constitution? When beaten we have never complained, but have quietly submitted to the verdet of the people. He would yield to not mar promise. Mr. Lincoln, he said, comes no here begging. It would be an indignity to his consituents. We have won our right to out thief Magistrate in the way you always won and if you were as ready to grant as you are treased it committee of compromise. Many of you threaten at Mr. W. Breek Mr. And Control of the proper section of the proper section in the way you always won and if you were as ready to grant as you are the cast justices you would not have raised a committee of compromise. Many of you threaten gave the names of several distinguished Northern men who refused to personally aid in the capture of fugitives, "And, there," says he, "is the moble parriot and Christian statesman. Senater Water of the says he, "is the woble patriot and Christian stateman, Sensite Wade of Ohio, who, when asked whether he would personally pursue and eatch the querist's fugitive slave, replied to his Southern interrogator, 'I'd see you d—d and in h—il first.'" Whether the ancedate is founded on fact or fancy, it reflects the inmost centiments of a great many people, Demo-crats as well as Republicans, though they might not express themselves with as much emphasis as the "Christian Statesman" of discourse yesterday, Wade was in ex-temper; he d d not say one harsh or unkind word, or anything tending to excite personal ill-feeling; and in this respect his re-marks were in striking contrast with the in-ity of a professional liquor taster a saloon keeper named Jamaa Erner was yesterday ar-r-sted for vending tippling materials without a feense. The saloon man brought in his-jug mittee of compromise. Many of you threaten, said Mr. W., that if we do not do so and so, you will go out of the Union. In my private capacity I never yield to a threat; in my public capacity I never yield to a threat; in my public capacity I have no anthority to compromise. There is no way to adjust affairs but according to the Constitution of the United States, and no other way can be admitted. We shall take nothing less and demand nothing more. Under this Constitution this people have flourished beyond all parallel in human majory, and there must be something to cause us to see the necessity of change, either in adding anything to it, or of lopping anything off. You claim, said Mr. W., the right to secede at pleasure, whether few States or more. For such a step he could find no clause in the Constitution. If such a right exists, we have not now and never have had a Government. Can that be obedience to law which obeys or not, as it pleases? How can that he a Government which depends on the will of any captious member of it to break up at its own pleasure? If South Carolina were sunk by an earthquake to-day, it would hardly be known except by the uncewater can'ne walled supply here. HELD TO BAIL.—Two young celored men named Henry C. Johnson and Christopher Ross, were held to ball in $600 yesterday for bbing one William Hills, to whom belonge both the tints of darkness and verdancy. The the uncented calm we should enjoy here. The se-cess on question was fully examined thirty years ago, and, he supposed, was finally settled then. Gen. Juckson and all the great men of that day (except Mr. Calhoun) held it so be de-structive of all government. This question Mr. Webster was supposed to have exhausted in his reply to Mr. Hayne. It was supposed to have been killed then, but here it is in all its bloom. Mr. Calhoun held that nullification/ was legal; but even he condemned secession, and said (in his Fort Hill letter to Gov. Ham-mond) it was not constitutional, and that we had the right to prevent it.

Southern brethren whenever they think it for their best interests, it cannot beaccorded them except by National Convention of the people. Each and every State, through its officers, has sworn to support the Constitution and laws of the United States; and no President or Congress acting under that Constitution has power to absolve any one from that cath, or from the day of citizenship. This is the plain common-sense view of the matter. Secession.

McVicken's THEATRE.-" Faust and Marguarite" will be presented this evening for the last time but one—it being the benefit of Me-phistopholes, Mr. Roberts, and we expect to see the theatre crowded. The piece has proved a decided success, and has drawn fine and said (in his Fort Hill letter to Gov. Hammond) it was not constitutional, and that we had the right to present it.

Senator Wade proceeded to refute the notion that Secession was a State right under the Constitution. He admitted the general right of revolution, but not of peaceade secession. Those who undertake revolution, if successful, are all right, and are heroes; if defeated they are rebels, and are punished accordingly. The Chief Magistrate of the Union cannot be released from his duty to prevent any star from dropping from the galaxy of the Confederacy. The most important duty is the collection of the severe. If the people of South Carolina do not want the mails; if they will not send Senators and Representatives here, we cannot force them in these matters, but when they come to the performance of the duty due to all the States that proves a decided success, and has drawn hue houses in spite of bad weather. It must be withdrawn after to-morrow night, to make room for a "Fairy Extravaganza," prepared for the Holldays. Don't fail to see "Faust and Marguerite." Marguerite"

When blockaded, South Carolina will be put into such a position that it will compel her to declare war, and to win her independence by violence and blood. This act of levying war is treason against the United States, and no lawyer in this body will deny it. You men of the South are a brave and gallant race, as brave as we are. We know it. We want no fight with you, but if you driested you must go to the wall.

Fedoral Government must still continue to execute the laws, and uphold its own former status. If it fails toward one State it fails toward all; and the Union is defacto resolved into its component parts. Let mot, then, the people of any State cherish for a moment so delusive and to dangerous an idea. Secession must be a long, long journey, and ineffectual at last. It can bring to the seceder only internal disturbance, agitation, poverty, and depopulation.

the direction taken by the fugitives, the parent started in pursuit. His search was successful and the broken hearted porert evertook the pair in the city of Chicago. Here the daughter first learned the truth concerning her husband More than this, he had left her but a few hours before the arrival of her father, telling her that ne would soon return, and in four hours from that time had become entangled in a drank em trawl, and was under arrest for disorderly conluct. The unhappy girl returned to her Wisconsin home, and the miserable deceiver with its way, perhaps to win fresh victims.

We can conceive that the subject, whitely wrought up, would make a picture that would meet the admiration of all who know the nature of the unexsuch success, that they were justified in believing, as they did a month ago, that they hight destroy the Union and break up the Government, without let or hindrance from any quarter what-ever—that the North, long accustomed to yield all that they demanded for the sake of securing peace would offer no onof scorring peace, would offer no op-tion to their mad schemes; but permit reason to be consummated unopposed, deed her former Democratic party did not make common cause with the traitors in securing for the Couton States the lion's ahare in the division of the national as-sets. They deluded themselves with the and the consequent derangement of the Northern finances and trade, her commer-cial and monied men, her day-laborers and peratives would cry out that the spoiled and wilful child must have its way, and and wilful child must have its way, and that, for the sake of profits, cent per cent, and day-wages, the great American experi-ment of self-government by means of Re-publican institutions, must be given up. In all this they are wofully disappointed. In the year 1851, Mr. Robert Rantoul of Massachusetts, (at that time Solicitor of the Illinois Central Rallroad Company) put forth a pamphlet in which he boldly-asserted that if our prairies could be speedily opened by the construction of railroads, the increase of population in Illinois would be one hundred and ten per cent. in the next ten years. Probably the statement of Mr. Rantoul had a greater influence upon the minds of capitalists than those of any other writer at that time; and the result of the writer at that time; and the result of the late census is a remarkable illustration of ease with which it could be converted into cultivated farms. The amount expended creased 102 per cent.—from 851,470 in 1850, to 1,739,498 in 1860. On the line of the Illinois Central Railroad the per centage of increase has been very much greater, being fully one hundred and forty-two per

F. N. BLAKE, ESQ., CRICAGO, ILL.—Deer Sir: I have made an abstract of the Kanasa Relief freights which have gone forward from from this office. It is lengthy, and I have made but two copies—one to go to Gen. Pomeroy, the other for my own use. I herewith give you the principal facts. The freight comprises 33 car loads, and is composed as follows: 43,433 lbs corn meal, 485,219 lbs corn, 144,750 lbs flour in bris and sacks, 28,160 lbs wheat, 7,400 lbs buckwhest, 2,000 lbs buckwhest flour, 16,650 lbs beans in bris and sacks, besides various other small articles marked "Provisions," to say nothing of "6 barrels kront."

There were five car loads came in Saturday night, which were cent across the river to-day. Yours, &c., Gso. G. Merrill.

It will be seen by the above statement that I will be seen by the above statement that over three hundred and sixty tons of various kinds of articles for food have gone forward. This affords ample svidence of the energy and efficiency of those engaged in the truly humans and praiseworthy efforts of directing and forwarding relief to the destitute. May orce, the city or county where the rescue curred shall pay the owner of the slave double the amount of the damages sustained by him. Second, that when any citizen going into another State on lawful business shall be moiested or mobbed, tynched or otherwise summarily dealt with by vigilance committees or individuals, or injured in any way without due process of law, the city, town or county within which the offence is perpetrated, shall be mulcited in double the damages sustained by him, to be recovered in any of the Federal Courts of the United States, in an action founded on that clause of the Constitution "giving the citizens of each State all the privileges and immunities of the citizens of every State," and which is bratally violated every day in the slave States. The propositions were referred to the Crisis Committee.

Resolutions were adopted inquiring into the condition of the armories and arsenals, how many arms have been sent into the slave States, and to the free States, and the capacity of the work shops to manufacture new arms, &c. After this the sharp practice began. Adrain of New Jersey (Douglas Dem.) offered and faibfin observance the duty of all good and law-abiding citizens.

Resolved, That we deprecate the spirit of disobedience to the Constitution wherever manifested, and we earnestly recommend the repeal of all statutes (including personal liberty fills so called) enacted by State Legislatures which are in conflict with and in violation of that sacred instrument, and of the laws of Congress made in pursuance thereof."

Cochrane moved to add the words: "And that the personal liberty bills of all States.

that the personal liberty bills of all States, wherever passed, should be repealed." Adrain objected, as his resolution covered the subject. Hindman moved to modify by the introduc-Sherman moved to add: "and all nullification laws." After a sharp debate the vote was take a loud laugh among the fire-caters when Love-joy voted in the affirmative. While the vote was being taken Lovejoy prepared a resolution the following additions: "And we carnestly recommend the repeal of all statutes, including the nullification laws so called, enacted by State Legislatures, which are in conflict with the Constitution." He obtained the eye of the Speaker audist a fleree scramble for the floor, and offered his resolution. The fire-eaters tried every way to avoid a direct vote on it, but under the operation of the previous question, the ayes and ness were called and resulted, syes 135, nays none. The disunionists refused to vote. and resulted, see so, has bothe flow a distribution of Ill. then gained the floor after much difficulty, and offered his, which embraces portions of Washington's Farewell Address in regard to cherishing and preserving the Union, and adding that taln and will support any construction of the Supreme Coart.

A motion will probably be made to lay the resolution on the table, which will be a test vote. It will discover how many Northern Democrats there are in favor of a Slave Code to protect Slavery in the Territories and introduce it into the new States; because, if the Constitution recognizes property in slaves, then as a supreme law of the land, to which all State Constitutions and laws and court deciations must give way—so the Constitution expressly declares—the slaveholder has the same right to take his slaves into Illinois as he would have to take his horses. There is no possibility of escaping from this conclusion.
The slaveholders are growing impatient for the Supreme Court to decide the Lemon Case in their favor, which would give them the right to take their slaves with them into the free States when on business or on pleasure. This is the first installment of the whole claim. If a slaveholder can come into Chicago with his This affords ample evidence of the energy and efficiency of those engaged in the truly homans and praiseworthy efforts of directing and forwarding relief to the destitute. May those who receive the above for distribution be equally faithful and devoted to their trusts, and all will be well.

The Memphis Acalanchs, of the 15th, estimates the total loss occasioned by the fire in that city, Friday last, at $200,000. The fire commenced it J. T. Mix's carriage store, No. 288 Main street, and destroyed six business houses. After this fire had been extinguished, the Calhoun Block, on the opposite side of the street, burned. When the discovery was first made, there was a mere speck of fire in the roof—but the firemen were tired, and it went on and destroyed the building. An efficient steam fire engine, well manned, would have saved Memphis the quarter of a million dollars worth of proparty destroyed in these fires.

Fire in Newfort, R. I.—The "Sea Girt House," owned and kept by by George T. Downing, the well known colord cuisine, at Newport, R. I. was entirely destroyed by fire on the 16th inst. The loss is $15.000—insured $10.000. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

I have been a long time silent, because casme to the conclusion that other than agr cultural and kindred matters were fully e re during the same time; while at Tolono o 25c, and here, 128 miles south, at from 18 to 137 miles south, the price has ranged from 20 wheat is worth more than it is in Chicago, and the same holds of oats and barley, rye

The year 1860 has given us, in this section, an enormous crop of cora, and there is a great amount of it still in the country. Nevertheless, the best fields have not yielded more than 00 bushels to the acre, and I doubt less, the best fields have not yielded more than 30 brashels to the acre, and I doubt whether the average of the country is more than 35 brashels.

I liked your suggestion of buying the slaves very much. A great debt, said I to mysolf, is a bad thing even if incurred for a char table and beneficent purpose; but a greater debt incurred in a civil war is far worse, so let us by all means buy and pay for the "niggers." But it occurs to me to ask, what will you do with the negroes when purchased? Say?

This whole secession and distunion buriness reduced to its naked form is simply a question of athies. Are negroes property, and does the Constitution of the Intel States reagants them is reach. We of the North say "No, no," They of the South say they are proparty and the Constitution makes them such, and they are shocked up by the Supreme Court, or at least think they are. We of the North feel we are sincer in our opinions and won't back down, of course. Will the South? I think not, From our point of view we are right.

The conflict then is irrepressible, as Mr. Seward and other distinguished gentlemen have logically, reasonably and sthically stated—Now, shall we have a peaceable solution of the guestion, or shall an attempt be nade to each of the uncertainty and the constitution of the guestion, or shall an attempt be nades to each of a mm sufficient to purchase two discussers, therean defends the more and what he season of low same, three and end of the the ware into the south and the water into it, where required, were carefully observed, sufficient facts would soon be obtained from the Sistate of a sum sufficient to purchase the of the medden in the state of a cum sufficient to purchase the more days the season of low same, there is no doubt that the work be season of low same, there is no constitution of the sufficient for purchase two distincts and the province of a man sufficient for the sum of the mine of a sum of the sum of the sum of the sum of the sum

The Canal property is now mostly exhausted the Trustees having received from this source tions since the in 1825, the sum of $5,1007-25.5, and paid during the same time of the various descriptions of the Canal debt and the interest thereon, the sum of $4,925,074.5c. Payments on the Canal debt must hereafter, of course, be made mainly from the net proceeds of Canal tolls, and judging from the receipts from this source for the last two years, and the necessary expenses, here will be serie small must there is some in-they will be every assess that there is some improvement of the river navigation.

Exactly how the Illinois River should be improved, is a question still to be discussed. It is already very well known that I consider the most effectual and certain mode to secure a reliable navigation for a large class of boats, to be by locks and dams. But to this mode such these collections have been reliable (I think the contract of the cont strong objections have been raised (I think er roneously) that it could not probably be adopt ed at this time, even if funds could be obtained cheaper plan shall have been tried on some portion of the river, say between La Salle and

The plan to which I refer, and which seem o meet with the most general favor amongst hose residing along the river, is simply dredging out the low water channel upon the bars and shoals, and contracting in places by wing dams and other devices.

In this way there can be no doubt that a comparatively small amount of money, judi-ciously expended, would greatly improve the to those clauses by which the clauses register are established;—those clauses religible are established;—those clauses religible are the legislation, but are in force ex propiorized. It is the duty of Courts to uphold a status it is the duty of Courts to uphold a status. It is the duty of Courts to uphold a statute un-less its iclearly unconstitutional. If the question is doubtful, the statute must be upheld. And I could not give the construction to the Con titu-tion which is claimed, without overturning the statute. For if the Constitution requires ne legis-iation to enforce the right, thou the provisions of the statute limiting or controlling that right are illegal: navigation, and would probably give a suffi-cient depth of water for canal boats fully la-Demurrer to the bill natained.

den the greater part of most seasons. In very dry seasons, however, I apprehend that even forcing all the water into a channel, say 150 feet wide, would fall to give depth of water enough during the lowest stages. A fair ex-periment of this plan on that part of the river between La Salle and Peoria, would demon-

Fortifications.

[From the Charleston Mercury of Thursday.]

The silent energy with which work is now being pashed forward upon the fortifications erected for the protection of the harbor of Charleston, is something at once new and extraordinary. To the readers of the Mercury, fully posted in regard to events transpiring around them, we present below an interesting account of these active operations of the federal authorities. It is proper, however, that the people of Charleston should know that the Executive of the State is fully orgalizant of all that is going one in relation to thug forfs, and terminus of the Canal at La Salle to its june tion with the Mississippi, is about 215 miles and the fall for that whole distance only 20 The problem to be solved, is whether the od to gase out in harmless imajesty upon the noble bay. I am confident that nothing but a full temperature to a part of the river can demon-strate this. The rules which would apply to a straight channel of uniform width and depth, would have no application to the Illinois River as it now is, or would be when thus improved. The river, it is well known, has long stretches of bread and deen water, others of broad and

A noticeable fact in the bastionettes to which we have above allnded, is the haste its which one of them has been built. The one completed is formed of solld masonry. In constructing the other, however, a framework of plank framework has been substituted. Against the inside of this wooden outwork loose bricks have been placed. Both bastionettes are armed with a small carromande, and a howitzer, pointed laterally so as to command the whole intervening most by a cross-firs.

In the hurried execution of these attensive improvements, a large force—about 170 men—are constantly engaged. Additions are delly made to this sumber; and the work of puting the post in the best possible condition for defence, is earried on with almost incredible vigor.

Mr. Clark moved to take up his resolution of enquiry.

A measage was here received from the House announcing the passage of the deficiency appropriation bill.

Objection was made to taking up Mr. Clark's resolution, on the ground that it would consume too much time.

Mr. Bambaury hoped the friends of the Union would not allow any such resolution to be considered. It would only add to the excitement and destroy the little harmony left.

Mr. Mason said he supposed the object of the mover was after he got the information to offer another resolution to require troops to be sent to those forts. He never doubted the right of a State to secede.

Mr. Davis contended that the inquiries were improper to make of the President. The President could not send troops now, without bringing about a collision.

Mr. Johnson's resolution was taken up.

Mr. Puph spoke at lengt; in reply to the argument of his colleague, Mr. Wade, denouncing the speech of the latters is inflammable. He charged that the Republican party so conducted themselves as to hispire slarm. The difficulty is the South has read and heard toofmuch of that party. He did not regard the Personal Liberty Bills as of any practical value, only as their object could be to insuft the Southern States. He referred to the decision of Governor Dennison, and said he thought it entirely wrong, and now when the Senator from Kentucky amen forward with a fair line of partition we have not heard one voice in favor of it from the Republican side. Why could not gentlemen come forward and meet it fairly? There could be no objections to the proposition of the Senators of that party, but to show the vast responsibility on them. They have the power. Aliopposing parties are shattered. His colleague complains of the weakness of past compromises. Then let us put this where it cannot be broken—into the Constitution of the United States. HOUSE.—Mr. Delano asked leave to offer the following, which he read, for information:

WHENEAS, By the report of the proceedings of the State Convention of South Carolina, held on the 19th inst., the Hon. Wm. Porcher Miles, a member of this House, used the following language in a conversation, and substantially in a written communication to the President: "I know this to have been said; 'If you send a solitary soldier to these parts, when the intelligence reaches our people (and we will take care that it does reach them before it can reach the forts, the forts will be taken, because such a course is necessary to our safety and preservation," therefore Resided, That the President be requested to communicate to the House what information he has received, either orally or in writing, to the effect that if the forts in the harbor of Charleston are not further reinforced, the forts will be taken by any force or anthority hostile to the activative and supreparay of the United

There was considerable excitement on the Southern side of the House.

Mr. Ashmore wanted to know where the information came from.

Mr. Delano replied that it was published in the precedings in the South Carolina Concention.

The Speaker said that neither debate or the resolution are now in order. The latter can be resolution are now in order. In a latter can be taken up at another time.

postponed till Thursday acxt; also on the but for the repeal of the act establishing the Court of Claims.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the bill granting lands to Nebraska for Railroads. The Committee adopted Curitis's substitute, which provides for a start from the Western borders of Missouri and Iowa, two converging lines from Fort Smith and the Western border of Lonslania to unite with the Southern Facific Road chartered by Texas.

In the course of the debate Mr. Garnett said the measures were designed or pollitical purposes, but he doubted whether there would be another Presidential election. Carolina, by the glorious action of her people, had to-day at half past one withdrawn from the Union. [Suppressed applause in the lower part of the Hall.]

The Committee rose, and the bill as amended was reported to the House. The Pacific bill passed, 95 against 78.

of the 38d of May, 178d, whereby the Consti-tution of the United States was miffled, and all the sorts and parts of acts of the general as-sembly of the State ratifying the amendments to the Constitution, are hereby repealed, and the union now existing between South Caro-lins and other States, under the name of the United States of America, is hereby dislins and other States, under the name of the United States of America, is hereby disolved.

The ordinance was passed unanimously by 169 members, at a quartar past one.

The news spread rapidly, and a crowd collected which did some immenses cheering.

Mr. Miles moved that the clerk telegraph the members at Washington. Carried unanimously.

The ordinance was oreered to be engrossed on parchment and is to be signed by the Fresident and members at half past six o'clock this evening at Institute Hall and be placed in the archives of the State.

In the debate on the adoption of the ordinance, Mr. McGrath said—What you have done to-day has extinguished the authority of every man in South Carolina deriving his authority from the general government. I am in favor of this body making such previsional arrangements as may be necessay by the interval which exists between this moment sad the time the Legislature may act. I am not, however, to be implicated in the idea that there is no lawful authority within the limits of the State except the general government.

Mr. Greeg thought all the laws of Congress should fall instantly to the ground.

Mr. Cheever said an immense change had been made in the law. It is necessary to avoid the inconveniencies to the people and must make temporary arrangements to carry on the government.

Mr. Greeg—There is no law on the subject the inconveniencies to the people and must make temporary arrangements to carry on the government.

Mr. Gregg—There is no law on the subject of the collection of duties in South Carolina. Mr. Hayne—The Congress of the United States is no longer our government. It will be for our Legislature to say what laws of the United States shall be continued and what not.

Mr. Gregg—Congressional laws for the col-lection of revenue are for the support of the Federal Government. All the Post Office laws fall to the ground on our dissolution from that government.

fall to the ground on our dissolution from that governmen. We have to deal with stern facts and realities. We must prevent confusion, anarchy and derangement of our government affairs. Things for the present must remain in state que, or confusion will ensue. Mr. Hayae thought sudden action injurious. Mr. Chesnut—We must revivify such laws as are best to preserve us from calamities. Mr. Maryek thought the present postal system a nuisance. He thought the public would be better served by private parties.

Baltimore, Dec. 19.—Judge Hardy, Commissioner from Mississippi to Maryland, addressed an andience of about 5,000 citizens tonight in the Maryland Institute. He advocated the right of separate secsation, which was received with considerable applants. Hestrongly recommended the Southern States to secode before Lincoln's Inauguration, and termined to do so. He wanted the entire South to join them, and then to form a compact until they should be guaranteed all Southers right, and then their institutions would be respected.
The South would never be in a position to demand her rights under Lincoln's Administration. They could afterwards, in solid phalainx or separately, present the intimation to the North, and again re-unite, if possible, with the present Constitution properly amended, the amicable terms. His proposition received unexpected approbation. The mesting was ondenly, and attended by many of the best citizens.

It is clearly his opinion that no State can secede from the Union, as it is impossible to destroy the Union, except by resolution. He says:

"I have, sfor grave-reflection, determined not to pursus that line of conduct, which, though it might be legal, would end in civil strif and the overthrow of our present Government. QUERY:—Did the editor of the Testume give vent to his honest sentiments in May last, in the Chicago Convention, or is he doing so now in the columns of his news-EDWARD BATES. The St. Louis Democrat a nounces the place in Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet, (probab the Department of the Interior), has been tendered to the Hon. EDWARD BATTO a shat city, and that it will be accepted. The event is not unexpected. Mr. B. was one of the strongest candidates before the Chi rago Convention after Mr. Lincoln and Mr Seward, for its first honors, and he made a record during the recent camp which assures the country that, although a citizen of a slave-holding State, he can act in entire harmony with the President elecand with those who may be associated with him as the Constitutional advisers of the Chief Magistrate. But the choice of Mr. Bates has another significance in addition to his eminent personal fitness for the po-sition to which he has been called. It will anchor Missouri fast to the Union for weal or for wo. And not only so, but it will exert a fike Influence throughbut it will exert a fike influence throughout the border slave States whose allegiance to the Constitution is being tampered with by treason Commissioners from South Carolina and Mississippi. Altegether the selection is a most happy one, and the time for its announcement is equally well chosen. The public will perceive that there is no donbt concerning Judge Bates' position in the matter of perfections. Bates' position in the matter of enforcing the laws in South Carolina, when in addi tion to his own sterling character, it is un-derstood that Frank Blair Jr. has been his warm advocate and supporter for the po

Petition to the President.

The N. Y. Evening Past is informed that a petition is being circulated in that eity praying President Buchanan to resign—a more particulate as than the public have any right to expect from him. The Past is of the opinion that Mr. Breckinridge, the late candidate of the disunionists, would be preferable to Mr. Buchanan, and adds: "At all events, if petitioning will make Buchanan resign, let him be petitioned, even though no one should unecoed him. The vacant chair of Gen. Justicon has more authority and more of Gen. Justicon has more authority and more in that a will son has more authority and more manis con derness of James Buchanan's."

Orders have been issued to Major Anderson to surrender Fort Moultrie if stracked. I are related to the property of the authorities of Charleston on a demand being made for them. This was done in obedience, as he says, to the spirit of orders he has received hear them. An official dispatch from Charleston, giving information of the passage of the Ordinance of Secession was received here this after-soon by President Buchanan. A number of Southern men were with him at the time, and I learn that he erthibited much agitation on having the news.
